

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of
media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the
public airwaves free
of charge, and is
obligated by law to serve the public interest. It's dangerous for all of
us when one company
gets their one-sided
say. News must remain balanced.
Otherwise, call it
what it is: mere propaganda.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They
show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
